

INTRODUCTION

The General Assembly has re-convened for the short session to continue to address needs of North Carolinians as a result of the COVID-19 crisis and to consider various other bills, as well as the state's budget. Leaders have indicated that they hope to complete their business within four to six weeks, but recognize that this is subject to change due to the uncertain nature of the pandemic and the uncertainty around federal coronavirus funding.

Lawmakers are hard at work determining how to address the drastic economic shift in North Carolina, as a result of the pandemic. "Before COVID-19 hit North Carolina and our nation we were looking, here in North Carolina, at a significant budget surplus," Senate leader Phil Berger said. "Now, our nonpartisan fiscal staff is estimating that we will have a multi-billion dollar shortfall as far as our revenue is concerned." The losses could be as much as $4 billion in tax revenue for the state, which would be around 16% of the state's $25 billion budget. This sharp decline in revenue could result in huge cuts across state government.

On Tuesday, Senate Republicans gave us a look into what they are prioritizing for the state budget by filing 19 budget-related bills. Given the uncertainty around revenue numbers, none of the bills have a specific allocation yet, but that will follow once new revenue projections are released. These bills address various areas, including: enrollment growth in K-12 schools, UNC and community colleges, NC School of Science and Math's Morganton campus, NC Promise tuition funds, UNC construction reserve, NC Agricultural Sciences Center, Connect NC bond park facilities operating reserves, utility infrastructure funding, retirement contributions and debt service, Medicaid transformation, a $623 million savings reserve allocation, Western Carolina University steam plant replacement, Raise the Age funding for juvenile justice facilities, Department of Health and Human Services relocation, repairs and renovation money for UNC and state agencies, Department of Information Technology and Western DATA Center improvements, and Military Affairs Commission funding. Additionally, a bill was filed to create a salary reserve fund for teachers, law enforcement and state employees. A senate budget writer explained in a press release that the purpose of filing these bills before having a complete understanding of the state's revenue is to show the public as early as possible what this session's top funding priorities will be in the face of this revenue shortfall.

You will notice in this legislative report that we have added quite a few general interest bills regarding broadband, unemployment, taxes and other areas of interest for many folks either personally or professionally. We hope that you find this information helpful.

- require every local law enforcement agency, county, city, and political subdivision of the State to credit any local governmental employee who is (1) a law enforcement officer, jailer, prison guard, firefighter, or an emergency medical technician or paramedic employed by a State or local governmental employer, including a volunteer firefighter or (2) a health care worker for any sick or vacation leave taken by the employee to comply with a quarantine related to exposure to the coronavirus.

- eliminating the limitations set forth regarding attached claims filed by employers for partial unemployment, and providing employers general authority to file claims for employees through the use of automation for partial unemployment;
- changing the weekly benefit amount for total unemployment to provide the weekly benefit amount to equal the average of the wages paid to the individual in the two highest paid quarters of the individual's base period divided by 52 and rounded to the next lower whole dollar (previously, was equal to the wages paid in the last two completed quarters of the individual's base period, divided and rounded), and effective August 1, 2020, increasing the cap for the weekly benefit amount from $350 to $450;

time compensation plan for approval by the Division of Employment Security (Division) for an affected unit of the employer to avert layoffs and offer short-time compensation to workers in the affected unit under an approved plan. The provisions would:

- require an employer to submit a signed, written short-time compensation plan (plan) to the Division for approval, and require the Division to develop an application form that includes nine specified components, including: (1) the affected units and employees covered; (2) the employees' usual weekly hours of work, as defined, and the employer's proposed reduction percentage during weeks covered by the plan, which must be between 10 and 60 percent; (3) certification of continued health and retirement benefits, as defined, during weeks covered by the plan; (4) certification that the aggregate reduction of work hours is in lieu of layoffs; and (5) the effective date and duration of the plan, which cannot exceed 12 months. The bill would provide for flexibility in the application process for demonstrated good cause, such as modes of operation that preclude setting specific dates and hours in the application, and would exclude overtime work from the term usual weekly hours of work, and prohibit the hours from exceeding 40;

- include requirements and limitations regarding plan modification, and prohibit any modification from extending the original plan's expiration date;
- detail eligibility for short-time compensation and benefits included under an approved plan, including that the individual be monetarily eligible and not disqualified for unemployment compensation who: (1) during the week, is employed as a member of an affected unit under a prior approved plan and the plan is in effect with respect to the week for which compensation is claimed; (2) is available for his or her usual hours of work with the employer, including training; and (3) is deemed unemployed in any week during the duration of the plan when remuneration as an employee in an affected unit is reduced based on a reduction of the individual's usual weekly hours of work under an approved plan;
- define unemployment compensation as the unemployment benefits payable under new Article 6 other than short-time compensation including any amounts payable pursuant to an agreement under any federal law providing for compensation, assistance, or allowances with respect to unemployment;
- set the weekly compensation amount to be the product of the regular weekly unemployment compensation amount for a week of total unemployment multiplied by the percentage of reduction in the individual's usual weekly hours of work;

- exclude eligibility for combined benefits in any benefit year in an amount more than the maximum entitlement for regular unemployment compensation and payment for more than 52 weeks under the plan, and provide further parameters and limitations for compensation, including relation to regular unemployment compensation and the impact of working or not working for a short-time employer and/or another employer during weeks covered by the plan;
- require short-time compensation benefits to be charged to an employers' experience rating accounts the same as unemployment compensation is charged;
- require employers liable for payments in lieu of contributions to have short-time compensation attributed to service in their employ the same as unemployment compensation;

It would be a Class 2 misdemeanor for a person, directly or through affiliates, to engage in, offer to engage in, or attempt to engage in debt adjusting or debt settlement. Introduced by Representatives Howard, Saine, and Wray and referred to the House Finance Committee. The bill was amended in the House Finance Committee to exclude from those engaged in the business of debt adjusting or debt settlement an attorney-at-law licensed to practice in this State and acting within the attorney-client relationship with the debtor or creditor, excluding services provided to a debtor by an attorney, or in the name of an attorney, who has entered into any arrangement with a person engaged, directly or through affiliates, in debt adjusting or debt settlement. - provide that an employer is liable for the acts of any individual whose harassment of an employee has created or continued a retaliatory hostile work environment that is unlawful under this Part if, at the time of the harassment, (i) such individual was authorized by the employer to undertake or recommend tangible employment actions affecting the employee or to direct the employee's daily work activities or (ii) the negligence of the employer led to the creation or continuation of that retaliatory hostile work environment;
